NATIONAL

President Bill Clinton became embroiled in a White House scandal that led to Congressional hearings on possible impeachment. It all started when Republican attorney Kenneth Starr was appointed as a Special Prosecutor to investigate President and Hillary Clinton's failed investment in an Arkansas real estate venture called Whitewater. A grand jury was called, and that led to several other investigations that eventually focused on accusations that the President was involved in obstruction of justice and perjury. He was accused of having an 18-month relationship with Monica Lewinsky, then a 21-year-old White House intern. In a dramatic address to the American public, President Clinton eventually did admit to inappropriate behavior, but Congress pushed forward to bring the President to an impeachment trial in the Senate. The impeachment measure failed to carry over, however, with the Senate vote split largely along party lines.

Whitewater Special Prosecutor Kenneth Starr's no-holds-barred investigation of Bill Clinton pushed Congress to bring impeachment charges against the President. Starr's far-ranging pursuit of presidential wrong-doing made him a hero to many conservatives and Republicans, while prompting wide condemnation from liberals and Democrats.

President Clinton's admission of an 18-month affair with 21-year-old Monica Lewinsky, a White House intern, nearly toppled his presidency. Once the impeachment crisis had passed, Lewinsky granted a tell-all interview to ABC's Barbara Walters and embarked on an international tour to promote the book she had written about the affair.

NATIONAL

House Judiciary Committee Chairman Henry Hyde, a Republican from Illinois, led the House of Representatives in the impeachment of President Clinton. He then delivered the Articles of Impeachment to the United States Senate. In a Senate trial presided over by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the impeachment measure failed to gain the two-thirds majority necessary for the President's removal from office.

Congressman Newt Gingrich became the first Republican to be re-elected Speaker of the House Representatives since 1928. Gingrich had first been elected Speaker in 1995 with the promise of enacting a new conservative agenda that he termed "The Contract with America." However, when November's midterm Congressional elections failed to produce results favorable to Republican candidates, Gingrich shocked the country by resigning both as Speaker and from his House seat.

Hurricane Georges was the costliest disaster in the 117 years of Red Cross relief efforts, topping the $81.5 million the agency spent on Hurricane Andrew. Georges ripped up through the Florida Keys and into the gulf of Mexico before it slammed into Mississippi and Alabama. Preliminary estimates put the Georges' cost to insurance companies at $2.5 billion, the third costliest such storm on record. Georges' costs rank behind only those of Hugo in 1989 and the costliest hurricane of all, 1992's Andres.

Vice President Al Gore came under fire for allegedly improper campaign fund-raising methods. However, the Vice President did manage to distance himself from the Starr Grand Jury's investigation into the scandal surrounding President Clinton. The Vice President was widely seen as positioning himself for a bid for the White House in 2000.

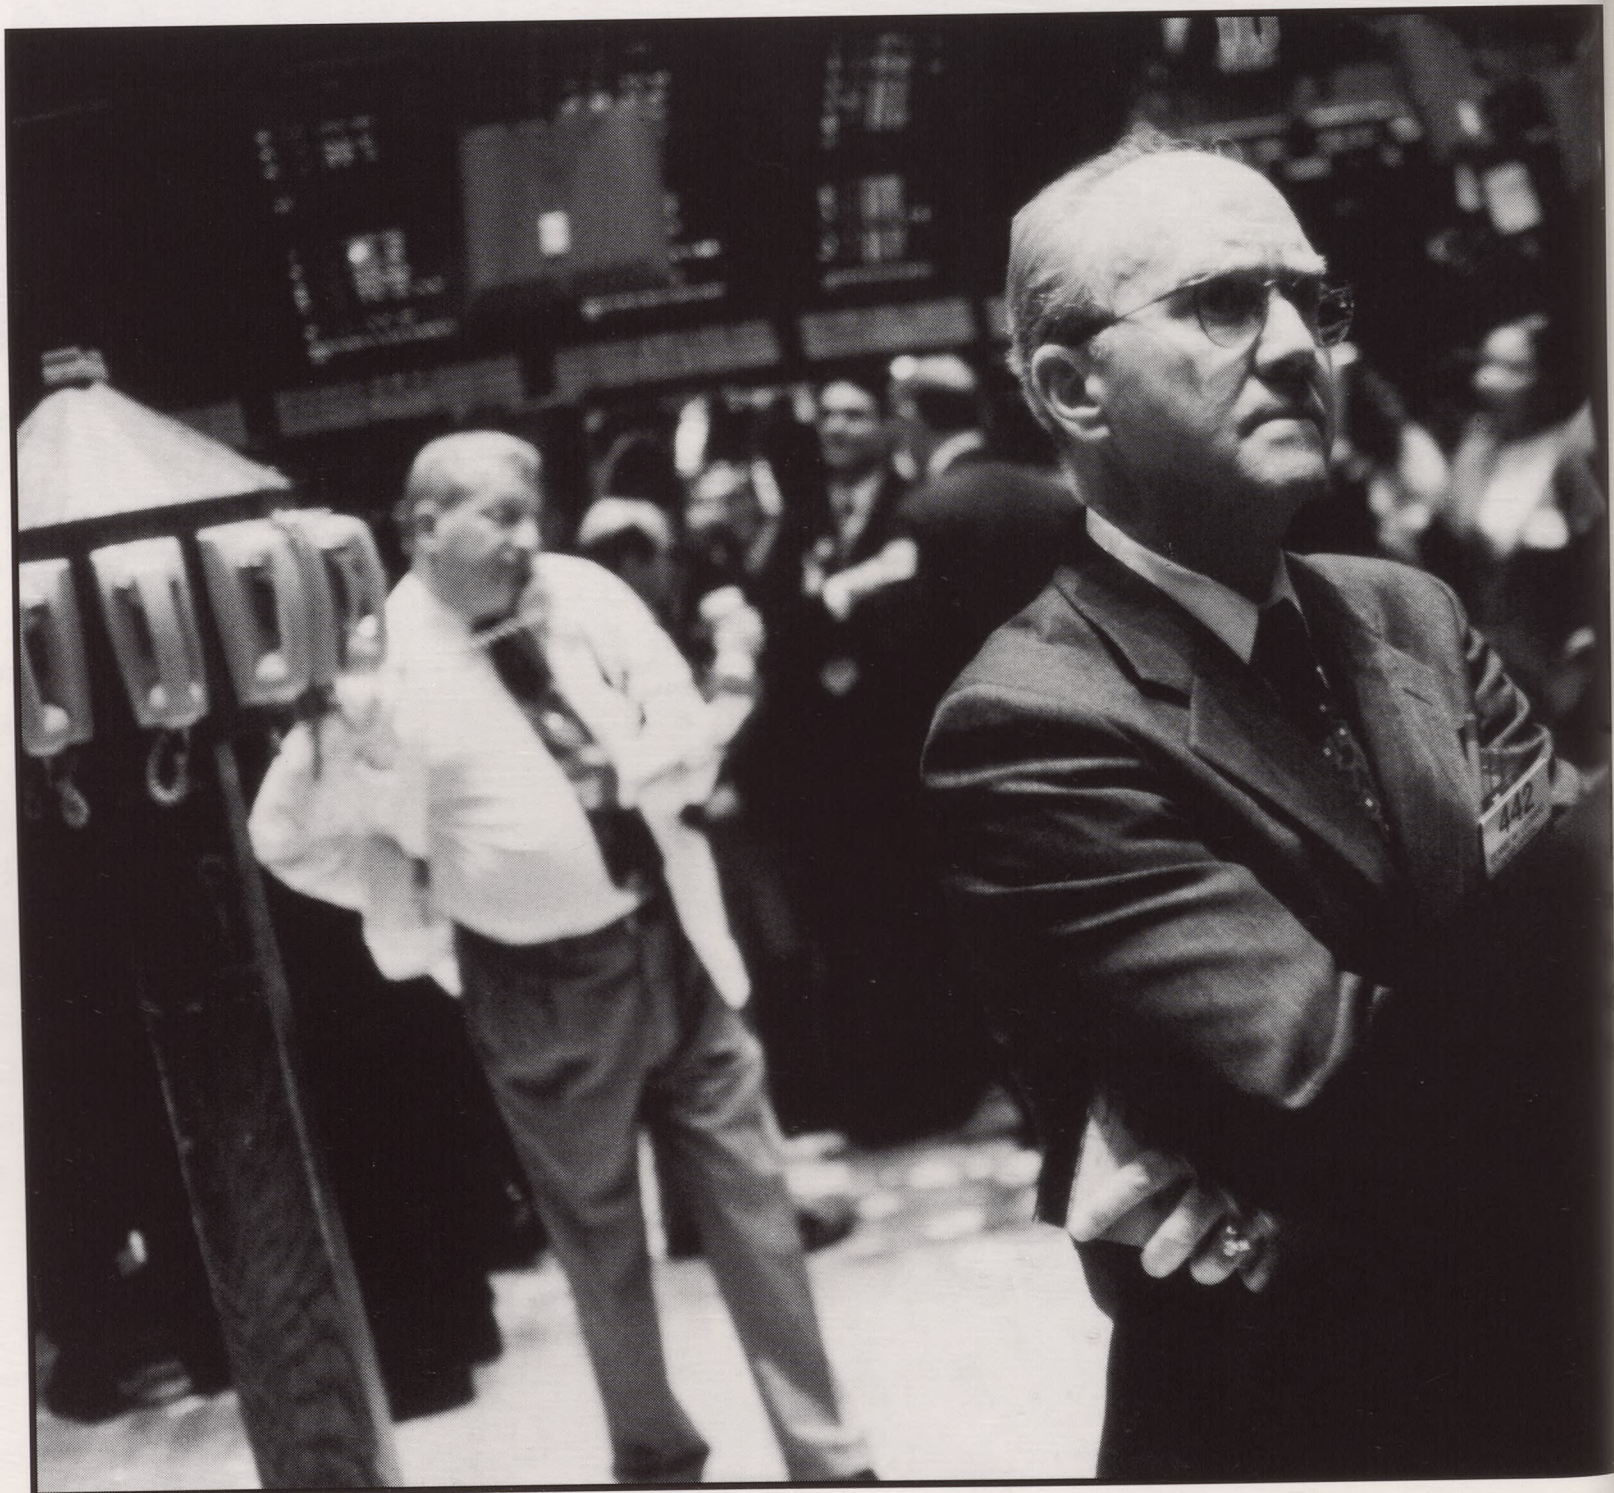

NATIONAL

Representative Bob Livingston, a Republican from Louisiana, made a surprise decision to resign from Congress just weeks before he was to be sworn in as Speaker of the House of Representatives. In the wake of the Presidential scandal, he stunned his colleagues when he announced during debate to impeach President Clinton that he had had extramarital affairs that had nearly destroyed his 33-year marriage.

As students were preparing to return to school in September, the stock market's Dow Jones Industrial Average was taking a dive — down 512 points, or 6 percent, in one day. Wall Street investors had seen the stock market make tremendous gains during the first half of the year, but during the summer, stocks began to lose value, and by early fall, the market had given back nearly all that it had gained. However, by year's end the market had rebounded and, fueled by internet and technology stocks, was again streaking for record-high territory.

Former Apollo Astronaut John Glenn retired from the United States Senate only to return to space. Glenn, 77, who in 1962 became the first American to orbit the globe in space, blasted off again in November on a 10-day mission aboard the Space Shuttle Discovery. One purpose of the mission to study the effects of space travel and weightlessness on the elderly.

Civil rights leader Jesse Jackson was in the news first in his role as a Baptist minister when he counseled President Clinton in the wake of the President's extra-marital affair with Monica Lewinsky. Later in the year, Jackson led an independent mission to the Balkans where he successfully negotiated with Slobovan Milosivic to gain the release of three American soldiers captured by Serb forces who had crossed into Macedonia where the Americans were serving as part of a peace-keeping force.

INTERNATIONAL

Russian President Boris Yeltsin held on to power in the former Soviet Union despite reports of ill health and increasingly bizarre behavior that many sources attributed to a drinking problem.

Terrorist bombs exploded at the American embassies in Kenya and Tanzania in late summer. The Nairobi bomb took place almost simultaneously with the bombing in Dar es Salaam and killed 247 people. The Dar es Salaam explosion killed 11 people. American officials say the man responsible was Osama Bin Laden, an exiled Saudi millionaire suspected of financing several other terrorist strikes around the world.

Pope John Paul II began his 21st year as Pope in the fall of 1998. The 78-year-old pontiff continued to be a champion of economic justice and an outspoken defender of the Catholic Church in Communist countries. Although his health appeared to be weakening, the Pope maintained a rigorous travel schedule, including a triumphant visit to his Polish homeland.

MUSIC

For Celine Dion, the youngest of 14 children growing up in a working class family in Quebec, two things were important: children and music. Her family operated a small restaurant where children could showcase their musical talent. Celine made the jump from teenage singer to international superstar, and her megahit "My Heart Will Go On," from the movie Titanic, became the hit of the year.

Smashing Pumpkins began in 1988 with Billy Corgan and guitarist James Iha. A bass player and drummer were added and the group exploded in 1993 with the release of multimillion-selling "Siamese Dream." After some rocky times, the band came back to win an MTV Video Music Award, and went on to earn seven Grammy nominations and several victories in the Rolling Stone readers' poll.

Rap impresario Sean "Puffy" Combs, also known as Puff Daddy, began his rap career with Uptown Records, but soon formed his own label, Bad Boy Entertainment, which sold nearly 12 million albums by 1994. In 1997 Puff Daddy made his solo album debut with "No Way Out." The album, which featured appearances by Notorious B.I.G. and Busta Rhymes, soon went platinum.

Much has been written, but little has been confirmed about Courtney Love's formative years. She has made a game of telling tales to the press and then contradicting herself. She got her start in the San Francisco area before heading to Los Angeles where she formed her current band, Hole. In 1992, she married rocker Curt Cobain, who later committed suicide. Her latest album, "Live Through This," has enjoyed great success, and the singer has branched out into a movie career.

Canadian Sarah McLachlan's latest album, "Surfacing," debuted at number 2 on the charts and quickly hit the top spot. It went on to sell more than 3 million copies. Nearly a year after its release, it was still going strong, winning her two Grammy awards.

The Backstreet Boys was founded six years ago and went on to nearly instant stardom. The group takes its name from a large market in Orlando, Florida. They have won the Viewers Select Award at the MTV Europe awards two years in a row.

SPORTS

Sammy Sosa, power-hitting right fielder for the Chicago Cubs, helped lead his team into the National League Divisional Playoffs. But of even more interest was the battle for home run supremacy he waged throughout the summer with the Cardinals' Mark McGuire. By season's end, Sosa had hammered 66 homers, good for second on the all-time list. Later in the year, when his Dominican homeland was ravaged by a hurricane, Sosa helped to spearhead relief efforts.

Mark McGuire lay claim to being one of baseball's all-time greats when he shattered Roger Maris's record of 61 home runs in a single season that had been set in 1961. McGuire's hurculean effort earned him the loud support of opposing fans throughout the league, many of whom rooted for him to hit a home run even against their own teams. As the season progressed, interest in McGuire's struggle to set a new record captured the attention of the entire nation. By the time the dust had settled, the St. Louis Cardinal's slugger had pounded out an incredible 70 home runs.

The New York Yankees won a record 24th World Series championship with a sweep of the San Diego Padres. In addition to dominating the series, the Yankees dominated the 1998 baseball season. They finished the year with an overall record of 125-50, the best ever. Third baseman Scott Brosius was named the World Series MVP.

Quarterback John Elway led the Denver Broncos to a convincing 34-19 win against the Atlanta Falcons in Super Bowl XXXIII at Pro Player Stadium in Miami. Shortly after the game Elway announced his retirement marking the end of the career of one of the greatest quarterbacks of all time.

President of Seton Hall University

Congratulations! The completion of your undergraduate degree is cause for celebration for you and your families. You are already a distinguished class: your crowning year at Seton Hall brings closure to a remarkable century. As you go forward into the new millennium, I wish you every success as you write new and momentous chapters in your personal and professional lives. Remain faithful to the mission of our great University, and continue to support your Alma Mater. Wherever life's journey takes you, know that Seton Hall is there with you, and for you. Hazard Zet Forward.

Very Reverend Thomas R. Peterson, O.P.

Chancellor of Seton Hall University

You, Seton Hall University's final graduating class of the millennium, stand upon an ancient glory and stare into fortune's future face whose vision each of you will now help to create. Under divine guidance, you can make that face shunt off the frown of failure and smile broadly upon the promised potential of assured success. Be wise. Be brave. Be yourself. There is much for you to accomplish in this new era we see just now dawning. Peace.

James VanOosting, Ph.D.

Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences

Do not settle for a Seton Hall credential; seek a Seton Hall education.
Do not settle for an entry-level job; seek lifelong learning.
Do not settle for material comfort; seek spiritual development.

Dolores T. Martin, Ph.D.

Dean of the W. Paul Stillman School of Business

Congratulations to the Class of 1999! As a graduate of the Stillman School of Business, you are prepared for success as a leader of the 21st century, equipped with not only the business skills you have learned, but also the core ethics and values that distinguish Stillman as a Catholic business school. Take with you these foundations of professionalism and integrity as you continue on your path. Whatever your destination, remember you will always be part of the Stillman community. All the best to you on your journey.

Terence L. Blackburn, J.D.

Acting Dean of the School of Diplomacy and International Relations

Each of us is a citizen of the global community. With that citizenship comes the obligation to be knowledgeable about the community, and to act responsibly to improve the lives of one's fellow citizens.

Sylvester Kohut, Jr., Ph.D.

Dean of the College of Education and Human Services

Chiseled on the marble walls of the Walsh Library rotunda are the words of Mother Teresa: "The fruit of love is service." May you always succeed in service to others. Christie McAuliffe, our first teacher astronaut in space, said: "I touch the future; I teach." So I join with my colleagues in wishing you success as you embark on your special journey of service as an educator.

Barbara A. Beeker, Ed.D.

Dean of the College of Nursing

We are today. You are tomorrow. Make the very most of your opportunities to become servant-leaders. As you leave Seton Hall . . .

May the road rise up to meet you. May the winds be always at your back. May the sun shine warm upon your face. May the rains fall soft upon your fields. And until we meet again — may God hold you in the palm of His hand. Traditional Irish Blessing

Lt. Colonel Pugh

Coordinator of the Reserve Officers Training Corps

Since its inception in 1950, Seton Hall's Army ROTC has commissioned young men and women who have shown exemplary leadership capabilities and a hunger for challenges in the United States Army. This proud tradition continues, and in 1999, Seton Hall's ROTC again provided the nation's military with a fine group of officers who represent all walks of life, and who will serve in various branches of the Army from the field artillery to nursing. As the millennium draws to an end, Seton Hall's ROTC is proud of the leaders it has produced and is confident that future classes will continue to protect and defend this nation into the 21st century. "Can Do! Never Quit!"

Monsignor Robert J. Fuhrman

Rector of St. Andrew's College Seminary

Knowledge is fine, but a Catholic university is a place of wisdom, and wisdom is far more important than mere knowledge. If you are more aware of your place in God's heart and of the sacrifice of Christ, then you have succeeded. Now the test of quality is the degree to which you put your gifts at the service of others.

Arthur W. Hafner, Ph.D.

Dean of University Libraries

The University Library's faculty and staff congratulate you for arriving at this milestone in your life and for the accomplishments you have achieved. Your graduation marks a new beginning, an exciting time for you to pursue challenges and dreams. We encourage you to seek lifelong learning opportunities and to always use your knowledge and skills in the service of humanity to make a positive contribution to our world.

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges

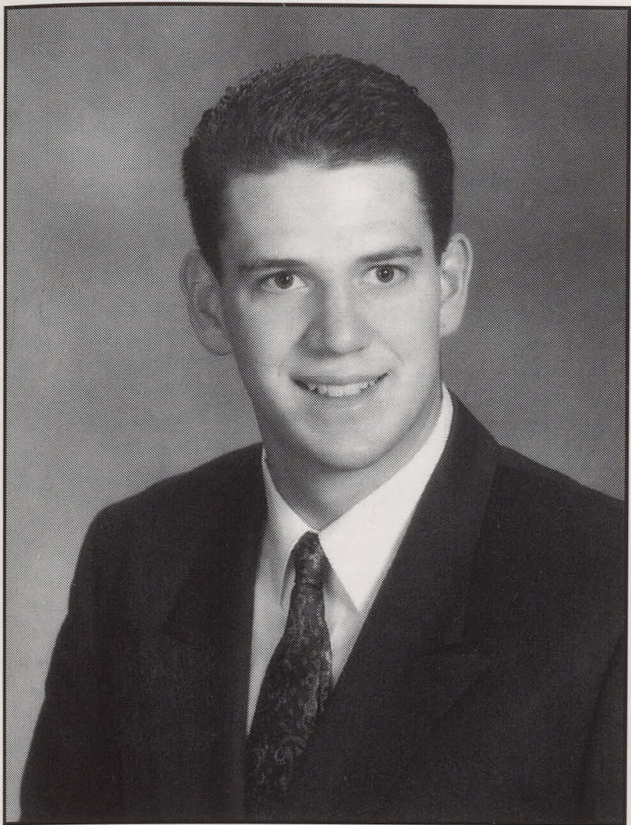

To excel academically at the college level is difficult, but to excel while actively participating in the university community and extracurricular organizations is even more outstanding. Every year a select number of students are honored in the directory of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, one of the most prestigious national academic awards.

To qualify for membership, a student must attain a GPA of 3.0 and be involved in extracurricular activities. The nominees must complete a resume style application in addition to a personal profile. The final honorees are selected after a review of their applications by a committee composed of faculty, administration and students.

This year 18 students were honored in the 1998-1999 edition of the Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges publication.

Alexander Guy Narcise

I couldn't be more proud of the person you have become
and the achievements you have made.
You truly have earned
and deserve your diploma.
Be proud of accomplishing your dream,
and look forward to a great future.

All my love always,
Lisa

Erin Patricia Natoli

Erin, you deserve the best because you give your very best to everything that comes to you.
You are the best!
We wish you success
and fulfillment as you continue your "journey."
Most of all, we wish you a life lived to the fullest — and love.

Mum, Dad, Steve and Paul

Leigh Marisa Onimus

Leigh —
You are an inspiration to our family!

Love,

Jessica Petrie

To hear angels whisper
you must listen with your heart.
College days are gone
with the wind!
Miracles happen to those who believe!
Kudos now and forever.
Always remain true to your own heart...
Love you to the moon and back!

Ace em —
Mom, Gram and Gramps

Jessica Beth Rajotte

With a degree in hand you move on;
an accomplishment we take great pride in.
The path you travel will affect many lives
as you give renewed hope and vision.
Your degree does not reflect your qualities of compassion, love and strength.
May these carry you through life's times.
Although words are not always spoken,
our love for you remains strong and eternal.
We love you! Congratulations!

Love, Mom, Dad and Bennah

Jacqueline Monique Reddick

Jackie,
I wish you much success
in your endeavors.

Love, your brother,
Dennis

Jacqueline Monique Reddick

A young lady with a wonderful character and personality who has an inner determination unmatched by 'anything I've ever seen before.
Your spirit has the ability to light up the room and change the course of time.
With these ingredients, you have no choice but to succeed in endeavors you choose.
I know this because your spirit has touched and changed me.

Love always, Todd

P.S. Miss Lady

Jacqueline Monique Reddick

Congratulations!
May you have much success
in your future endeavors.

I love you,
Your Mother

Frank —
You are our first child and only son.
Our pride cannot be greater.
Your successes are only surpassed by your goodness and thoughtfulness.
We know you will achieve all you seek.
God bless and watch over you.

All our love,
Mom and Dad.

Felicia Vanderburg

From diapers to diplomas.
From Lambie Pie to sorority sister.
From pajamas to cap and gown.
From a little girl to a young lady.
We are very proud of you and wish you the very best that life has to offer,
and we'll remember always . . .
Graduation Day.

Love from All Your Family!

Jason Michael Wanko

Our "twinkle" in the sky has evolved into a brilliant shooting star.
How blessed we were
when you touched our lives.
You were, you are, and you always will be the ultimate son!

Rebecca Anne Wiechert

Becca,
You consistently bring pride, joy,
happiness and love to our lives.
God has truly blessed us with a child like you.
Continue to keep God first in your life
and follow your dreams.
Thank you for being you and sharing your life with us.

Congratulations!
Love,
Mom and Dad

Rebecca Anne Wiechert

You have grown from a little sister to an intelligent woman.
Be proud of what you have done,
because we are proud of you.
You have made a bright future
for yourself.
We wish you all the best.

With love,
Your Brothers and Sisters.

Love,
Ma and Oh Grandparents

Amy Wojlawowicz

Congratulations and best wishes.
You have made us proud of your achievements as a Seton Hall Pirate —
in the classroom and in the pool.
Keep up the good work,
and never lose your determination and dedication.

Sarita Yabes

Congratulations, Sarita!
We're so proud of you today.
You have always been very special,
so just continue to think and feel with your heart as you do.
We wish you much love, success and happiness in the future.

We love you very much,
Mom, Dad, Sarah and Geff
